11 September 2012

Mr. Kuku Arora

Founder, Sunshine Projects

It brings great pleasure to be proclaiming my esteemed recommendation and support to Sunshine Projects as a good cause for humanity. Yesterday, 10 September 2012, I was introduced to Mr. Kuku Arora and his many children for the first time when the South African High Commission's staff members and their families undertook an Outreach Program to Sunshine Projects. I had already heard inspiring stories about Sunshine Projects but wanted to see it for myself and indeed I was not disappointed. If anything I was certainly humbled by the good work Sunshine Project is doing for children who used to be on the streets and even for their families.

It was never God's intention for humans to be unequal. We were created equally and yet, we divide ourselves. We therefore need to address the inequalities that are the result of these divisions. Nobody asks to be born on the streets. Thankfully, anointed humans like Mr. Kuku Arora and his wife, have taken up the challenge to address inequality. In South Africa we cherish the Diplomacy of UBUNTU, UBUNTU meaning "I am because you are", and thus we are humbled and inspired by your work Kuku and wish you all the best in your future endeavours. We are also looking forward to further working with Sunshine Projects in the near future.

Indeed, on behalf of the South African High Commission in New Delhi, India, it is with outmost fervour and pleasure that I recommend Sunshine Projects.

Sincerely,

Reverend Harris Majeke

High Commissioner of the Republic of South Africa to India
